GroundWidgets/Groundspan acquires Deem's Voyageur Platform

GroundWidgets takes on development and support of the Voyageur back office system while Deem focuses on integrated travel booking and management experience.

Paramus, NJ., October 3, 2017 – GroundWidgets, a leading ground transportation software and technology development company, and Deem, a leading mobile and cloud technology provider for the business travel industry, announced that GroundWidgets has acquired Deem's Odyssey / Voyageur back office systems for car service operators.

"GroundWidgets is excited about welcoming Voyageur/Whisk customers into our portfolio of back office software solutions and corporate automation tools. We have the domain expertise and knowledge to ease the transition from Voyageur to our flagship product, SantaCruz or one of our other cloud based options" said Apurva Patel, CEO of GroundWidgets.

The agreement enables GroundWidgets/Groundspan to further expand it's eco-system of connected back office providers to better serve the ground transportation industry and corporations that use their services.

"The agreement with GroundWidgets also ensures a bright future for the Voyageur system and the customers who use it," said John F. Rizzo, president and COO of Deem. "GroundWidgets, with its strong background in back office technology, is well-positioned to continue moving Voyageur forward."
